

Marine Mammals and Birds

Marine mammals, like these harbor seals, often haul-out on Oregon's rocky shores. Please observe them from a distance as they are easily disturbed.

Harbor seals (Phoca vitulina) resting in the sun

Black oystercatchers (Haematopus bachmani) are easily identified by their bright red eyes and beak.

Pigeon guillemots (Cephus columba) have black beaks, white patches on their wings and bright red feet.